

Read Your Way : Book week celebrated at Mwanza International School

Mwanza International School (MIS) recently celebrated its annual Book Week, themed “Read your way” with a series of engaging activities that highlighted the school’s commitment to fostering a love for literature.

Daily Teacher Book Presentations

Each morning, teachers shared their favorite books with students, offering personal insights and fostering a culture of reading within the school community.

Peer Reading Sessions

Throughout the week, students from Years 5 to 10 engaged in peer reading sessions with younger classes, promoting mentorship and a shared enthusiasm for literature.

Dress-Up Competition

On Friday, the school hosted a dress-up competition where students and staff dressed as characters from their favorite books. Winners from each year group were celebrated for their creativity and received house points, contributing to their respective teams’ standings.

Student Book Writing Initiative

In addition to the group story, every student authored their own book during the week. These individual creations were evaluated, and the best from each year group received recognition for their efforts.

MIS Collaborative Story Tradition

The tradition at MIS involves the entire school collaborating on a single story. This year, the preschool initiated the tale, with each subsequent year group adding a chapter, finishing off in a complete narrative that showcases the collective creativity of the student body.

MIS's Book Week not only celebrated the joy of reading but also strengthened the bonds within the school community, emphasizing the magic that literature brings into the lives of students and educators alike.
